JOHNSTON TECHNICAL COLLEGE
1982-83

DEDICATION
MRS. BETTY HICKS SIMPSON

We proudly dedicate the 1982-83 RETROSPECT to Mrs. Betty Hicks Simpson for her service to the students of Johnston Technical College. She has been a devoted teacher in the English Department for 12 years. Mrs. Simpson has won us all over, not only with her sense of humor, but with her devotion to helping her students. Her philosophy of teaching is: "I believe that the 'teacher-learning' process can be fun; it does not have to be drudgery. I also believe that if no learning takes place, no teaching takes place. The teacher should be a human being first, then a teacher. The teacher should strive to motivate the student by instilling within him self-confidence. Once this has taken place, the student will seek to do his best in class." This is why we warmly and wholeheartedly make this dedication to you, Mrs. Simpson.

As this school year draws to an end the thought comes to mind 'what was it all about and was it worth the extra effort;' remember that quality education and hard work is the only hope for our Nation if the American way of life is to continue.

Our forefathers secured this proud Nation with unsurpassed physical endurance and now is the time to repay them by taxing our minds to their greatest capabilities. Use your education wisely and secure freedom for all future generations. Educate America; our Nation depends on it.

May God bless us all!
